READING

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow :

Once upon a time, there was a piece of paper. It could do all sorts of cool things like bend, flex, fold and even turn into a paper plane. The children loved playing with it! They would draw on it, cut it out, make shapes, make a boat with it. But one day, the paper found itself old and wrinkled. It was too used up for the kids to keep playing with. Before it knew what was going on, it found itself stuck at the bottom of the trash can. It was sent out to the big dumpster where some men came and picked it up.

The little piece of paper was thrown into the truck with all the other papers who were old, wrinkled and quite grumpy. The journey was bumpy and windy—too long for such a tired piece of paper. It went from light to dark, from wind to rain. It was grabbed at and squished, and finally thrown onto conveyor with the rest of the papers. It quickly got sorted and pushed, and moved around. The poor little piece of paper could do very little in its weak a condition. Then it was crushed back into a thin piece of paper.

“Hu Hmm”, it thought, “that’s not so bad.” Then it saw the slicer! And the crusher! The paper tried to run. It was too late. The crusher and the ripper sucked it in with the rest of the papers. The paper closed its eyes. Slowly it blinked. And realized that it was perfectly quiet. Even a bit sunny. Looking around, the paper realised it was sitting next to a batch of fresh paper. It looked down at itself. Completely clean, smooth with a fresh coat of bleach!

Then bending over to examine the rest of itself, to see what was going on, it noticed a fine watermark on its back “What is this?” it wondered “A recycled logo!”

READING

Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

In Routine Village, life was routine for each and every member. They opened their eyes at the hint of sunrise, washed, and set off to work.

But among them, there was one young lad, Rolta, who thought differently. He wanted to live out his own dreams. So he looked around for ideas. People poked fun at him; his friends thought he was crazy, while his parents were always annoyed with him.

But Rolta turned a deaf ear to everyone. He trusted his instincts and held his head high. One day, as he was walking through the village, his shoes got caught in the weeds that grew on the ground. Pulling out the shoes, Rolta landed on his bottom with a thud. Clutching his shoes to his chest, he lay there for a few minutes and then suddenly, he realised what he wanted to do in life.

He went about observing the shoes of everyone in the village and pitied the sight of tattered footwear. The city shoes were too expensive for the poor villagers, and so they wore their shoes till no one could use those ever again.

Rolta went to the city to learn how to make shoes. He worked with a shoemaker for six months and when he returned home, he was equipped with knowledge and material. To begin with he made a pair of shoes for everyone in his house. Soon others in the village requested Rolta to make shoes for them. He did it at a price they could pay, but at a price with his profits included. He put up a board at his home, Rolta Shoe Mart – give your feet some love. That was the tagline he used to attract people and profits.
